Project Architect

Are you an experienced architect looking to take your career to the next level? Nvision Architecture, Inc. is looking for a full-time registered architect to join our team.

Nvision Architecture is a medium-sized, award-winning firm located in Anchorage, Alaska, specializing in commercial architecture and cold-climate design. We are seeking a Licensed Architect/Project Manager who can confidently lead a project from start to finish, while enjoying the support of a talented production team and a principal who values and empowers our employees. Given the size of our firm and the diversity of our projects, Nvision offers an exceptional opportunity to grow professionally while contributing to all phases of a project. We support continuing education, advanced training, and helping our employees realize their full potential as designers and leaders. Our company offers a friendly workplace, optional flex schedule (every other Friday off, 9hr workday) competitive compensation, overtime at time and a half, retirement plan, a generous benefits package, generous discretionary bonuses, paid summer and winter company retreats, and a chance to grow with one of Alaska's busiest and most exciting design firms!

Our ideal candidate has strong design talents, proven leadership, refined technical abilities, and natural communication skills. We prefer candidates with several years of project management and commercial design experience, but we encourage those with less to apply if they feel capable of meeting our goals with added support as they grow into the role. Specific responsibilities include project management, schematics, design development, specifications, construction documentation and construction administration. Work may also include planning, feasibility studies, building assessments, BIM/Revit modeling, and LEED/Sustainable building design. Ability to coordinate and lead a production team is key to long-term success.

Qualifications

- 10+ years of production experience in commercial architecture
- Highly proficient in AutoCAD, Revit, Sketch-Up or other design modeling software, and Adobe Creative Suite
- A history of managing multi-discipline design teams on a variety of building types
- Solid understanding of the International Building Codes and local Zoning Codes
- Architectural Registration (Alaska and/or other states)
- Excellent planning, decision making, organizational and time management skills
- Effective written, verbal, and graphic communication skills

To apply: Please email an introductory cover letter, resume, and portfolio to contact@nvisionarch.com. Or mail to 1600 A St. Ste. 300, Anchorage, AK 99501.
